Trivia

Q-The 2015 Mustang was the 1st to have independent rear suspension across the board, but not the 1st to have this technology. What was the first?

Hello Mustang Friends. The sun is shining and it looks like spring is in the air. The club is growing with new members joining every month. I'd like to take this time to welcome all of you and thank you for joining our club. If you are at one of the many upcoming events and see someone you do not recognize, take a minute or two and introduce yourself and make them feel welcome. I also want to let all the members know that it is not a requirement to drive your Mustang during our cruises, yes we would love having all Mustangs but the people are more important than our cars.

There are a lot of activities coming up so check the schedule and come out and join the fun. The club helped Korum Ford with their Peanut Butter Drive. We collected 233 jars of peanut butter (and $40) and delivered it to a waiting truck bed after the May general membership meeting. Great job everyone; I am always proud to see just how generous our members are when it comes to helping others.

I know one of the things I dread when getting my car ready for show season is water spots. My arms are ready to fall off after towel drying. Use your leaf blower, it's much faster and easier. Start at the top and work your way down and voila! Clean and dry without spots or the need for physical therapy! I also have a wide assortment of cleaning accessories in my car care kit. Stuff you wouldn't think of using on your car like:

Baby bottle brushes for door jams, hood hinges, and hard to reach areas

Bamboo skewers for creases and in between spots

000 steel wool for chrome and glass

Rubber gloves for your hands

Knee pads for comfort

Paint brushes of all sizes for almost anything

Micro fiber rags and tons of them

Maybe even an apron to wear detailing so you don't accidentally scratch the finish

Plastic bags for times when trash cans are far away

Sunscreen so I don't match the color of my car

Hope to see you at one of the upcoming events this month!

TOO COOL EVENT

John Clor the “world’s” leading Mustang II enthusiast is organizing the first ever Mustang II national gathering set for August 19-21 at Ford’s own Product Development Center in Dearborn, Michigan.

What better time to stage the event than in the 40th anniversary year. It will be held in conjunction with the Mustang Owners Club of South Eastern Michigan’s annual Mustang Memories show as well as on the same weekend as Detroit’s famed Woodward Dream Cruise. As John says, “It just doesn’t get any better than that”.

One of the highlights will be “Dinner with the II Designers” set for the evening before Woodward, fans can meet and mingle with some of the car’s original designers after a special Mustang II presentation. Plus, later get your car judged by actual Mustang II designers and Ford VIPS.

Butch and JJ Blodgett

2016 GT Shadow Black Coupe

Back in the mid 70's I owned a 66 coupe, but since then it's been mostly trucks.....that is until Black Friday in 2015. That's when JJ and I decided to gift my dodge truck to the nephew and we bought our 2016 Shadow Black GT.

Somehow we found PCMC on the web and we fell into a big bunch of happy and laughing people who love to enjoy their Mustangs, having fun and sharing their joy with the community.

Sometimes we have to say “Good-bye”

This month one of our long time and steady members is taking off for a new adventure. Rachel Lanigan, who has been a former club president, board member and active participant in many club activities and plans is heading to Florida.

Rachel, we will miss seeing you but know that you will stay in touch and continue to follow your club.

Maybe that is where we can get our “Sister Mustang Club”??

Good-luck and best wishes!

Informational Article:

How Do You Start Collecting?

First, remember the story from last month about Landon Lively? His team was Team Apex from Seattle Christian Schools. They made it to the World Championships in St. Louis. This was about robotics but it all started with Mustangs years ago. The team ended up ranked #4 after qualifications, took home the #1 Rookie Seed Award over 175 teams from around the world, and received the Rookie All-Star award, the highest award at Worlds. Great Job Landon and Team Apex!

Of course this all started the conversation about collecting classic cars as this is where he began his interest in building and in electronics. What are tips we can give to those young drivers and those “more seasoned” who might be interested in getting an older Mustang and rebuilding it for show or for getting around town.

I spoke with a friend or two that have caught the car building bug. Here are a few tips.

- Check it out before purchase. I heard one person at a recent show tell me that they sent a large sum of money to a seller only to never hear from them again and never see the car. This is the worst case scenario. But besides this awful situation, with photo programs just about anything can look good in pictures.
- When you do make the purchase, trailer it home unless it is local. The last thing you want to happen when you are excitedly bringing home the prize, is to have it breakdown partway home.
- Have a mechanic (if you are not one) check it out. Connect with someone you trust and have them do a “buyers inspection.” It costs, but gives you the tools to say yes or no to the purchase or to do some negotiating.
- Know your limits and your plans for the vehicle. Recognize what you are willing to pay and what mechanical / body work you are able and willing to do. Go into it willing to say no to the deal if the cost or work doesn't match your vision.

A friend that has owned, “43 vehicles” (classics and regular daily drivers) over the years spoke to me about his experience. His collection currently includes a '56 T-Bird, '32 5 Window Hot Rod, and a '66 Mustang. He started much like Landon. When he was about 10 years old a neighbor asked him to help him take the paint off a '26 Chevrolet he wanted to restore. And so it began. In high school he took Auto Shop and was part of a small group asked to overhaul an engine of a '37 Cord. And he just kept building.....

His words of wisdom were really about the power of this work, the impact a few adults including teachers and neighbors had on him. His experience allowed him to purchase inexpensive cars knowing that he would be able to work on them, learning and enjoying the experience as he went. His first car was a 1939 Chevrolet that he bought for $50 and then rebuilt an engine for it and raced it. He was 16 at the time.

Being able to work on these vehicles provides a sense of accomplishment to the young person and a bonding experience with an adult mentor and/or parent. What a valuable project it was for Landon and our friend and others who have had this opportunity.

As a former educator I have seen and heard of another benefit from this work. Math, science and reading are subjects where tests have become increasingly stressed. What better way to help students engage in these subjects, as well as history and art, then by helping them connect to a real world application that they love.

If you have a young person in your life, how can you help them make these connections and appreciation for our Mustangs!

See you on the road...don't forget to wave!

March Events

We get to do a lot of fun things with fellow Mustang enthusiasts but this year, we got to help out one of our sponsors again and have the unique experience of driving a variety of vehicles, if only for a few blocks.

Korum invited us to help shuffle cars from their lot to the fairgrounds parking lot for the Wallup in Puyallup. Several from the club took them up on the invitation. It is always an adventure to get handed a set of keys, told to go find the car, and then drive away. So you get the key, 15 people at the same time hit the key fob to find their car....This year the key was in the car and we just picked one and drove off down the road.

I don't know about others, but it always takes me a moment or two to figure out how to start it (not all have regular keys), then adjust the seat, and then find DRIVE. (I drove half way to the lot wondering why the Chevy I was driving didn't sound very good before I discovered I was in a vehicle that had both manual and automatic and yes.....I was in Manual!) I could only hope the radio station was not on country (nothing personal but my husband was a rock 'n roll musician). I can't imagine trying to program the radio for the few blocks we drove.

Winery Cruise

May 15

So what if it rains a little....we live in the Pacific Northwest and that is what it does in the spring! But rain or shine, 13 Mustangs and a couple of additional vehicles, took this beautiful drive through the back roads from Fredrickson to The Rainier View Winery and Nursery. We passed lakes and horse pastures and drove on curvy wooded roads.

The trip ended with lunch at the winery (where a few additional members joined us). Then many went shopping in the nursery and gift shop. I saw yard art leaving and suspect a few bottles of wine left the premises as well.

This is a unique winery that creates European style wines based on recipes the owner brought back from a German wine maker after being stationed in Germany while in the military. I heard some "oohs" and "ahhs" as members tasted the product.

But we all drove home safely.

FNDO

Farrelli's on Canyon

May 26

Our usual group of 20 or so was down a couple taking care of Missy who was in an accident between work and home that night. She only suffered minor cuts and bruises she says but the truck didn't fair so well. Glad it wasn't the other way around.

It was a small but hungry crew that hit Farrelli's on Friday night. The food was very good and the service was outstanding. I think there was as much talking as there was eating but then that is typical, isn't it....

Can't wait to see you next month at The Hangar Inn.

CAR SHOW SUGGESTIONS FOR NOVICES

Besides washing and waxing your car, here are some other "words of wisdom".

Pre-register you know you are going...so save some money and get a goody bag.

Cleaning kit – even on a short drive there will be dust and road junk to clean off.

Plastic gloves & hand cleaner – no dirty hands or smell the rest of the day.

Comfy shoes – lots of walking and standing at a car show.

Umbrella – to protect you from rain or sun.

Hat/Sunglasses – besides the sun, there is a lot of glare from freshly waxed cars. Don't forget suntan lotion!

Clipboard – so much easier to fill out your ballot than using someone's back.

Pen – blood is soooo messy.

Fire extinguisher – some cars may be too hot to handle.

Lunch – unless you like $5.00 hot dogs.

Camera – great way to take photos of ideas for your car.

Ice chest – something small to hold water and sodas.

Raffle money – support the host club's charity and maybe come home with something special.

Trophy or no trophy - a car show is really all about the beautiful cars and the people you meet.

Lastly, a chair – car shows are hard work and an afternoon nap is important!

Thank you Nancy for sharing and Pete for posing.
