Chuck Botsford - ceb_iii@yahoo.com

I hope you enjoy the new feature that you will find in this issue of the Pony News. We have 3 people who have stepped up to share their unique perspectives about whatever they have chosen to write about. If any one else has a topic they would like to share just send it my way.

With some luck, we will be having a couple of club events this month. Jerry and Kathy always put on a fun St. Patrick's Day / Poker Run Cruise and Chuck is organizing a Tech Day with Griot's Garage. We do this one every 2 years to see new products and detailing tips. Also, don't forget the first Car Show Meeting of the year.

Check out the 1954 Ford LA Tosca. 1954 ford la toska Archives - Citroënvie! (citroenvie.com) It was one of several cars built in the 1950s and 1960s that never were on our roads. I tried to send a photo but it wouldn't let me copy the image and the address said it was not available even though I was on it??? Here are some others to look up: 1953 Ford X-100, 1955 Lincoln Futura, 1955 Ford Mystere, 1955 Lincoln Indianapolis, and 1958 Ford X-2000 (fordofwestmemphis.blogspot.com). When you see them, you will probably wonder why they never made it to the road.

And while you are at it, this is "BREAKING NEWS" from Burt Kreidler. Going to the Barrett-Jackson Auction in March—save your pennies—one of the only 2 Super Snake AC Cobras ever built. It could be "break the record for the highest price ever paid for any car, ever." It has 800 HP and "a bunch of beefing up mods" and is "slightly heavier than a VW Bug." "They were the only 2 AC Cobras ever built with Automatic Transmission." One was for Carroll and one he gave to Bill Cosby who drove it one time and said it was too scary. (It did make his comedy album, however.) Where is the other one? Owner after Bill crashed it and was killed. 1966 Shelby Cobra 427 'Super Snake' | Shelby | SuperCars.net

It is good to see more people at our Club Meetings even on Zoom. A club is only as successful as the members help make it through their participation, discussion, shared ideas, and problem solving/solution finding. Thank you all for your involvement in Pierce County Mustang Club.

2021 Car Show Update

Help!

The Board has requested that the car committee no longer solicit for specialty awards for the car show. The specialty awards that we have at this time are grandfathered in but we are not allowed to solicit for any more. Without being able to solicit for specialty awards the car show committee will not be able to meet all the expenses that we have before the show. At this point if we get 170 cars (hopefully) at the show and sell over $1000 for the raffles we will still be short $3500 of the budget that the board has set for the car show revenue.

The committee needs help on deciding if to cut expenses and where to cut expenses - Cut second, third, fourth place trophies, Dash Plaques, the hospitality for the volunteers, or sponsor thank you?

Do you know of a creative way to earn extra money at the show without adding an expense to the car show?

If you cannot join the Zoom Meeting on Wednesday March 10 @ 6:30 pm, you can email Riveralarrycharlene@comcast.net or call me at 360-459-3993 with any ideas or questions.

Thanks!

Mustang of the Month

Greg Zirkle

2005 Red / White Roush

Congratulations, Greg!

There is no information available at the time of this writing but a beautiful car.

If additional information comes in later we will add it to next months issue.

In Memory of Lee Windh

It is with great sadness that we share that another of our club members has passed away this year.

Lee Windh joined PCMC in 2013 and had actually just renewed his membership for this year. He owned an auto repair shop and was respected as an excellent mechanic.

Lee has been fighting cancer for several years. This last round was just too much for his system.

Lee always had a smile and a story to tell. Our thoughts are with his family and friends. Services are pending.

New Feature : A Few Words from Club Members

So in January, I asked for some volunteers that wanted to share their experiences, knowledge, ideas, etc with the club. I have several who have stepped up to contribute. In this issue we have some of Paul's experiences as a musician and Missy's as a cook.

The idea here is to share these with our friends and Mustang club family with the hopes of giving you something to look for as you read the newsletter besides just facts and dates. Hopefully they will also bring a smile to your face and perhaps a new recipe to the table.

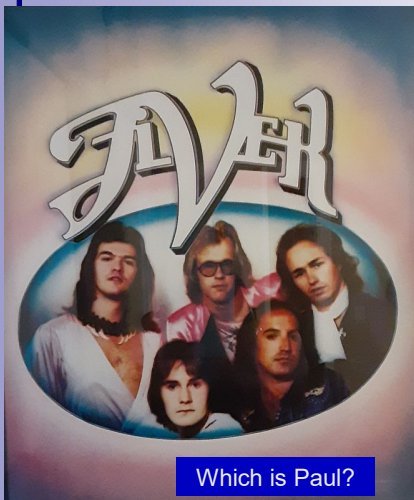

Enjoy the contributions from your fellow club members and consider adding some of your own to future issues.

From Paul Geise: The Band—Part I

Howdy! I've been told I can write something for the newsletter. Something informative, unique (not pertaining to cars) and or, funny. I'll give it my best shot. If this doesn't work...well... I won't say who suggested me (I respect their privacy) but, he owns a really cool Grabber Orange Parnelli Jones Mustang. Hope I didn't give it away.

As many of you know I used to be in a rock & roll band. We travelled all over the western U.S., into Canada, & got as far east as Nebraska or Iowa. I don't actually remember as it was the 70's & well... it was the 70's...

I played bass, some keyboards, sang (mostly harmony, if the singer blew out his voice, or if the club was on fire & they needed to get people out quickly!) but mostly played bass. I am definitely NOT a virtuoso, I was considered "adequate" which is why I don't play for people today. I own about 10 or so (I say "or so" as I don't want...well... "family" members to know the exact # because I've been told... whoever dies w/ the most WINS!!) Most of my basses are "short scale" meaning the necks are shorter than most bass guitars. I find they're easier to play (looser strings), quite a bit lighter, and have a much deeper tone so I can rattle stuff off the walls. I once heard my neighbor yell "IT'S THE BIG ONE!! They are also easier to hide from "family" members that like to count.

Not that you care, but my influencers were Paul McCartney (I could play the notes he played but never with his feeling...so melodic), Rocco Prestia (Tower of Power... he played like a machine gun but VERY clear. May he rest in peace) James Jamerson (Motown, Funk Brothers, plucked w/ only 1 finger, he called it "The Hook"...rest in peace), Chris Squire (Yes. Loved his tone! Could never quite duplicate it, but WOW!...rest in peace) & Leland Sklar, (a "session" player for James Taylor, Carole King, & was the replacement for Toto's bass player when he passed away. If you've ever seen "Chewy" from "Star Wars"...uhhh ...you've seen Leland. So, I will write of my experiences as I remember them the best I can. Most are pretty funny, odd, & others that even if I change names will probably NOT pass the Censo...er...editor even IF I know her/him (mostly HER!!).

When Heidi & I started showing our '07 GT I thought we needed a little something for display. So, I bought a Fender Mustang bass (short scale of course!) Stripped it down, painted it "Vista Blue" to match the car, added a black & white checkered custom (makes it go faster) pick guard, a checkered strap (increases the "COOL" factor) & a Bartolini "hot rod" pick-up. I really didn't need to add the bit about the pick-up... but I just like to say "BARTOLINI"!

So, there it is & here we go. Hope you enjoy the "ride"! By the way... everything you've heard about raucous rock & roll bands...well they're probably true....just sayin'.

Signed

The President's Hubby

InstaPot Adventures with Missy

Well, a new year a new me? Not exactly. Some of you might be aware that I have taken on some new responsibilities this year. My favorite student, Miguel, moved on to high school. I have committed to working with him through graduation. So, I am up in Kent at least twice a week working with him on his class/homework. I usually get some wonderful Mexican food for dinner. Both his parents are fantastic cooks. I get home anywhere from 6-9:30 pm and still make dinner for Dad. That was making for a very long day. I have been interested in those InstaPots and did some investigating. Found one I liked and bought one on Amazon. I ended up getting the Instant Pot Ultra 10-in-1 Electric Pressure Cooker, Slow Cooker, Rice Cooker, Steamer, Sauté, Yogurt Maker, Cake Maker, Egg Cooker, Sterilizer, and Warmer, 8 Quart, 16 One-Touch Programs model. What a title right?

Next step? Pinterest of course. The first attempt would be Pasta Fagioli Soup just like you get at Olive Garden, I hope. <https://www.pinterest.com/pin/225672631317352449/> if you are on Pinterest or <https://www.lecremedelacrumb.com/instant-pot-pasta-e-fagioli-soup/> if you are not. It looked easy. The hardest thing was the chopping and the soaking of the beans. It said:

Prep Time: 10 Minutes

Cook Time: 20 Minutes

Soaking Time: 6 hours

Total Time: 30 Minutes

Servings: 4 people

Ingredients

2/3 cup dried white great northern or navy beans

2/3 cup dried red kidney beans

1 lb ground Italian sausage (mild or spicy)

½ yellow onion, diced

3 tsp minced garlic

4 cups chicken broth

1-15 oz can tomato sauce

1-15 oz can diced tomatoes (not drained)

2 celery ribs, chopped

½ cup carrots, chopped/sliced/julienned

1 cup ditalini pasta, boiled till tender

1 tsp salt or to taste

1 ½ tsp dried Italian blend seasoning

¼ tsp crushed red pepper flakes (optional)

fresh basil, cracked pepper, grated parmesan cheese (for topping)

Instructions:

I soaked the beans overnight, cause I'm impatient, and I chopped the onion, celery and julienned the carrots.

I combined all beans in a LARGE pot, covered with H₂O (Miguel is taking Biology and we are studying chemical make ups, so it is H₂O not water), and brought to a boil, then reduced to simmer for 1 hour stirring occasionally until tender and cooked through. Then drained the beans. Why a LARGE pot? I doubled the recipe. Be careful, it almost didn't fit in my pot. Lol

Preheat on Sauté, then add sausage, onions and sauté for 3-5 until meat is browned. Add garlic and cook 1-2 minutes longer until fragrant.

Switch instapot to "soup" add broth, tomato sauce, diced tomatoes, veggies, salt/pepper, red pepper flakes, beans and Italian seasoning then stir to combine.

Lock the lid. Cook on high for 10 minutes. Allow pot to sit for 3-4 minutes and then turn the release valve for a "quick" release.

Stir in (cooked) Ditalini pasta, garnish with cracked black pepper, fresh basil, and grated parmesan cheese if desired and serve.

I followed the instructions, all pretty easy. Total cooking time was only 30 minutes. Just don't forget to cook the pasta. I did. I looked at the end result and I knew something was missing. You can't really have Pasta Fagioli soup without the pasta!

See the next page for the results!

Take Aways:

Dad LOVED this soup.

Paco (Miguel's dad) LOVED this soup.

If you like your soup to have more liquid, add almost twice the broth.

Dad likes more onions, so I added more.

Dad likes his veggies, so I was very generous with my measuring.

Unless you are cooking for an army or a 14-year-old boy, don't double the recipe. It barely fit in our 8 quart pot. And I have had to buy larger Tupperware to fit our new leftovers.

If you do double the recipe, all the cooking times are also doubled.

It can take up to 20 minutes for the InstaPot to come up to pressure before it starts pressure cooking.

Great idea to chop veggies ahead of time.

You can even cook the meat frozen!! Does not take any longer to cook. Woo hooooo!!

Don't forget the pasta. Since it isn't done in the InstaPot, I almost forgot it!

If you are going to be cooking with the InstaPot most every night, buy more wooden spoons.

I would say that this is a definite "would cook again." I won't, however, double the recipe.

What's up next? Chili. Another Pinterest recipe. Stay tuned Pony faithful.
